Use and care

Before use, the doll should be washed with warm water. It is necessary to do this in order to remove factory talc.

After use, wash with warm water together with antibacterial soap or toy cleaner.

After washing, apply body powder containing talc. Thus, the material will serve longer.

TIP

Use water-based lubricants only. The use of incompatible oil or silicone lubricants as well as massage oils is not recommended! This leads to a chemical reaction and destruction of the material.

Some manufacturers of the female underwear may use the cheap dye. So the underwear may leave stains on the doll. Better opt for the light shades of the underwear.

TIP

If the black underwear has left stains on your doll and you are having hard time getting them off, use the magic cream that is available at the shop where you have purchased your doll.

Stains caused by underwear can be removed with a facial toner or a special cleansing (hydrophilic) oil.

Damage repair

If the air comes out of the doll's bust, it is easy to eliminate this with a usual injection syringe. After you have pumped the air, seal the hole up with cyanoacrylate-based glue.

Small damage and cuts on the doll can also be removed with the help of the glue. After glueing, heat the surface with a hairdryer.

Storage

You can store it both in the package or out of it. Be sure to place a soft blanket or pillows under the doll. It is important that the doll touches the smooth surface. Otherwise, the surface of the doll may be distorted. Even if this happened, do not worry. This will go away in a couple of days and it will be smooth again.

To avoid deformation of the body parts, e.g. butt, change the position of the doll once a week. Store the dolls with XXL breast size in a bra to avoid the stretching of the breast.

Store out of direct sunlight. It is not recommended to store sex toys made of other materials together with the doll.
